THE WORST IS FEARED

Another Rumor of Massacre of Foreigners in Pekin.

NOTHING KNOWN OFFICIALLY

Absence of Definite News from the Legations Is Regarded Now as Most Ominous

London July 13—The Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Mail says the following relating regarding the position in Pekin originates from Chinese official sources

The two remaining legations the British and Russian were attacked in force on the evening of July 6 Prince Tuan being in command The attackers were divided Prince Tuan commanded the center the right wing was led by Prince Tuan Yin and the left by Prince Tuan Lin The reserves were under Prince Tsin Yu

The attack commenced with artillery fighting which was severe and lasted until 7 o'clock in the morning by which time both legations were destroyed and all the foreigners were dead while the streets around the legations were full of the dead bodies of the foreigners and Chinese

Upon hearing of the attack Prince Ching and General Wang Wen Shao went with troops to the assistance of the foreigners but they were outnumbered and defeated Both Prince Ching and General Wang Wen Shao were killed

The engineers are said to have escaped through the gates bearing one with a heavy sword wound on his head

Prince Tuan in celebration of the victory distributed 100 000 taels and huge quantities of rice to the Boxers

LONDON BELIEVES THE WORST HAS HAPPENED

London July 13 4 19 a m—A certain sort of silence envelopes Pekin and it is nobody but believes the worst has happened

It is taken for granted that all the foreigners have exhausted every means of direct news from their legations the fact that their efforts have been in vain leaves but one interpretation

A Chinese representative in Berlin has the statement that Li Hung Chang has sent him a hopeful telegram He says that on the contrary a recent telegram has been received from Li Hung Chang for some time past

To-day a news is again restricted to a small scope of announcements the most serious of which is said to be the correspondent of the Times to the effect that Chinese troops are directing the Chinese military operations The correspondent adds that he has heard from a distinguished man in a European garb directing the Chinese military operations outside of Tien Tsin

Foreign refugees at Tien Tsin openly say a European official whose name the Express correspondent supposes is Colonel Von Hanneckin, who was formerly employed to drill the Chinese troops of being parties to a plot to prevent the escape of General Chang and themselves from Tien Tsin before the bombardment leaving the other foreigners to their fate

A dispatch from Tientsin to the Shanghai Mail accusing the Russians of indiscriminate slaughter of friendly Chinese noncombatants without regard to age or sex The manager of a Chinese steamship company who has arrived in Shanghai asserts that he only escaped from Tien Tsin by cutting off his queue and donning European clothes It is stated that the consul of Shanghai protested to the powers against Russian slaughters

It is asserted that the Buddhist priests throughout the empire are propagating Prince Tuan's anti foreign idolatry

News is circulating throughout the Yang Tse valley that Prince Ma has inflicted a crushing defeat upon the allies at Tien Tsin and that the foreign [illegible] Pekin The actual impotence of the [illegible] to the rebellion with the worst results

The Shanghai correspondent of the Express gives Tien Tsin advices to July 5 when the superior range of the Japanese artillery enabled them to relieve the Russians who were hard pressed at the railway station

JAPAN'S PREPARATIONS FOR SENDING TROOPS TO CHINA

Washington July 12—The Japanese legation has received a dispatch from Tokio giving briefly the details of the assassination of Baron Von Ketteler at Pekin, and the fighting around Tien Tsin

Concerning today's reports from Yokohama that the government is being asked to send 50 000 troops to China, Minister Takahira, the Japanese charge, says this is little more than conjecture there is no present evidence that the government has the slightest purpose of sending more than one army corps or 22,000 men, to China While there is sentiment in Japan that might favor the dispatch of a larger army to China he feels that the government will act quite conservatively, particularly in view of the uncertainty as to the ultimate ground upon which Japan is to undertake this mission

It is the understanding of the Japanese officials here that the Fifth army division is now being put aboard transports at one of the great naval stations Hiroshima It is expected that the transports will go forward in groups as they are loaded, each group being accompanied by a convoy of warships to afford protection Put as Japan and Russia are allied in the war against China it is not expected that a convoy of warships will be provided

The Japanese troops will go direct to Taku the trip taking about [illegible] days

In view of the prospective military operations in China the quartermaster department is favorably considering the advisability of establishing a transport service between Taku and Nagasaki [illegible] for that purpose The Logan and the Ninth infantry from Manila to Taku and is now at the latter port Hinshaw and Wexford are scheduled to leave Manila tomorrow with two regiments of the Twenty-fourth infantry and troops of the Fifth artillery for Taku

The selection of Nagasaki as one of the terminals is due to the fact that transports now leaving San Francisco or Manila will touch at that port in case it is desired to send the troops carried by them to China the journey could be done by the line from Nagasaki without the necessity of diverting regular Pacific transports from their proper destination at Manila This arrangement would result in a saving of time as the transfer of troops would be effected more quickly than the transports could be coaled and loaded for the extra trip to China

The state department is now in negotiation with the Japanese government for the remission to Japan of these armed at Nagasaki It is expected that the remission will be speedily granted and good impression made by the action of the Chinese Minister at Tokio

Minister Wu yesterday threatened to offset to some extent today by a dispatch from London stating that [illegible] the real author of this [illegible] and that some of its most forcible foreign language was omitted in the version given out here But at the Chinese legation these intimations from London are dismissed as groundless The dispatch was received here in Chinese that is in the numerals by which the Chinese government transmits its official messages This in itself it is said, indicates that it came with the sanction of those in imperial authority as the official code is not known outside of this limited circle—

Two translations were required first from the numerals to the Chinese and second from the Chinese to English These translations were made by members of the legation staff here so that the ultimate text as made public contained the phraseology adopted by the officials in this city In making their translation they say they adhered literally to the telegraphic edict so that the published text contains everything embraced in the original When the emperor Kwang Hsu issued in edict he does not sign his name but his acts are authenticated by seal which in this case could not be called so that this document was authenticated as coming from the privy council the highest body of dignitaries in China and the one most closely associated with the imperial household Following an invariable custom in times of disorder the war office at Pekin was intrusted with furnishing the runners to carry the message to the imperial treasurer of Chi Li who in turn got it to [illegible] along the route of the procession

THE FORMAL NOTIFICATION

Republican Nominees Officially Informed of Choice of Convention.

MOST AUSPICIOUS BEGINNING

Of the Presidential Campaign Senators Lodge and Wolcott Delivered the Important Messages to President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt Respectively Distinguished Guests Present at Canton.

Canton O July 12—William McKinley was today officially notified of his second nomination by the Republican party for the highest office in the gift of the republic

There was enthusiasm to spare and to many of the pointed utterances of both Senator Lodge and the president there was hearty and cordial approval shown

An important feature of the day's work of notification by Senator Lodge and the response by President McKinley were the references to the Chicago convention This caused a great deal of discussion [illegible] speechmaking and the impression [illegible] were a justification to the world that the United States intended to preserve all its rights in China

Features of the Speech

The most impressive parts of the president's speech were his reference to the maintenance of the gold standard and the financial public faith the conservation of protective tariff the enlargement of our market and especially the phrase prosperity at home and prestige abroad When he asked shall we go back to the tariff of four years ago there were shouts of No No from every part of the audience [illegible] his words relative to the Monroe doctrine our authority in the Philippines With the [illegible] the portion of the speech relating to the new possessions and there was a most impressive shout when he declared that there should be continued legislative control over the territory possessed by the United States and another outburst when he said such authority would be in keeping with liberty and humanity His declaration that the United States had reclaimed 10 000 000 human beings from imperialism met a decided response

The president seemed at his best He was [illegible] and his appearance indicated the best of health and his voice rang at least as clearly as that which surrounded the house and extended over the town and across the street He spoke from the same place where he received the formal notification four years ago

Other Speakers

While the speech of the president closed the formal notification other speakers were called for Senator Fairbanks of Indiana Senator Hanna chairman of the national committee Charles Larcom Smith, postmaster general Col Samuel Parker of Hawaii and Senator Lodge were heard There speakers with the exception of Col Parker who was called out of compliment to the Pacific islands took occasion to refer to the recent action of the Democratic national convention at Kansas City It was evident that Senator Fairbanks intended to make the money question the dominant issue of the campaign declaring that with its 16 to 1 in their platform the Democrats could make imperialism the leading issue Senator Hanna adjured Republican voters to remember the importance of the campaign

Postmaster General Smith warned his hearers that Democratic success would disarrange the business interests of the country

The features of the speech of Senator Lodge was his resentment of attacks of President McKinley by his opponents and his pointing out the difficulty Mr Bryan would have in selecting a cabinet from the men prominent in the convention at Kansas City and Sioux Falls

The weather was perfect Not a trace of the storm of last evening was seen

The notification committee and party came from Cleveland on a special train making the run in one hour and twenty-five minutes They were met at the station and escorted in carriages to the home of President McKinley The [illegible] Cleveland was given the place of honor next to the band with which the Canton citizens welcomed the delegation Decorations were not plentiful but the American flag floated from many [illegible] along the route of the procession

Mr Lodge's Speech

Mr President—This committee representing every state in the Union and the organized territories of the United States was duly appointed [illegible] to you formally your nomination by the Republican national convention which met in Philadelphia on June 21 last as the candidate of the Republican party for president of the United States for the term beginning March 4 1901

To be selected by the Republican party as their candidate for this great office is always one of the highest honors that can be given to any man This nomination however comes to you sir under circumstances which give it a higher significance and make it an even deeper expression of honor and trust than usual You were nominated unanimously at Philadelphia You received the unforced vote of every delegate from every state and every territory

The harmony of sentiment which appears on the face of the record was but the reflection of the deeper harmony which existed in the hearts and minds of the delegates Without faction without dissent with profound satisfaction and eager enthusiasm you were nominated for the presidency by the united voice of the representatives of our great party in which there is neither sign of division nor shadow of turning Such unanimity always remarkable is here the more impressive because it accompanies a second nomination [illegible] have held for four years It is not the facile triumph of hope over experience but the sober approval of conduct and character tested in many trials and tried by heavy and extraordinary responsibilities With the exception of the period in which Washington organized the nation and built its state and those other awful years when Lincoln led his people through the agony of civil war and saved them from destruction the work of Washington there never has been a President until to-day in our history so crowded with great events so filled with new and momentous [illegible] which is now drawing to its end True to the declarations which were made at St Louis in 1893 you sir united with the Republicans in congress in the revision of the tariff and the re-establishment of the protective policy

Hopes Fulfilled

You maintained our credit and upheld the gold standard leading the party by your advice to the passage of the great work of both You led again in the great policy which has made Hawaii a [illegible] These questions you fulfilled the hopes and justified the confidence of the people who four years ago put trust in your promises But in all these questions also you had as leaders not only your own principles but well considered results of years of training and reflection for they also the plain declarations of the national convention which [illegible] the Cuban question which [illegible] war and then peace with Spain congress declared the war but you as commander in chief had to carry it on You led and history records unbroken victory from the first shot of the Nashville to the day when the protocol was signed The peace you had to make at Paris Cuba Puerto Rico the Philippines you had to assume alone the responsibility of taking them all from Spain All and weighted [illegible] the consultation [illegible] Cuba insurrection and disorder in the Philippines No party crowded the course you were to follow

America interests both now and in the immediate future faith in the American people and in their fitness for great tasks were then your only guides and counselors

[illegible] this great new policy which has made us a power in the Antilles and a great eastern power holding here our possessions on both sides of the Pacific

New Policy Justified

The new and strange event excites fear and the courage and prudence which accept them always at once criticism and attack Yet a great departure and a new policy were never more quickly justified than those undertaken by you On the possession of the Philippines rests the admirable diplomacy which warned all nations that American trade was not to be shut out from China It is to Manila that we owe the ability to [illegible] the policy of the open door of access to the defense of our ministers our missionaries our consuls and our merchants in China instead of being compelled to leave our citizens to the casual protection of other powers as would have been unavoidable had we flung the Philippines away and withdrawn [illegible] It is assured sir that the vigorous measures which you have thus been enabled to take and all further measures in the same direction which [illegible] the protection of American lives and property will receive the hearty support of the people of the United States who are now as always determined that the American citizen shall be protected at any cost in all his rights everywhere and at all times [illegible] to Manila again to aid the fleet in the Pei ho and our army on land that we shall one the power where the seeds of blood in China are closed to exact a penalty [illegible] final settlement [illegible] an open door for all that vast market for our growing commerce

Events moving with terrible rapidity [illegible] of your action in the east The Philadelphia convention has adopted your policy both in the Antilles and the Philippines and has made it its own and that of the Republican party

Continuance Assured

You elected sir next November assures to us the continuance of that policy adopted and in our new possessions To enrust these difficult and vital questions to other hands at the incoming of a new and untried administration would be disastrous [illegible] unprecedented disaster to our posterity [illegible] our only protection [illegible] our industries but the maintenance of a sound currency and of the gold standard the [illegible] relations of our economic and financial welfare Should these be shaken as they would be by the success of our opponents the whole fabric of our business confidence and prosperity would fall into ruin Your defeat would be the signal for the advance of free trade for the anarchy of a debased and unstable currency for hard times and for the wreck of our foreign policy

Your election and the triumph of the Republican party which we believe to be as sure as the coming of the day will make certain the steady protection of our industries sound money and a vigorous and intelligent foreign policy They will continue those conditions of good government and wise legislation so essential to the prosperity and well being which have blessed our country in such abundance during the past four years

Thus announcing to you sir your nomination as the Republican candidate for the presidency we have the honor also to submit to you the declaration of principles made by the national convention which we trust will receive your approval We can assure you of the faith and earnest support of the Republican party in every state and we begs you to believe that we discharge here today with feelings of the deepest gratification this honorable duty imposed upon us by the convention

The President's Speech.

The president spoke as follows

Senator Lodge and Gentlemen of the Notification Committee The message which you bring to me is one of signal honor It is also a summons to duty A single nomination for the office of thirty two years out of forty has been bestowed by national conventions is a distinction which I greatly cherish To receive unanimous renomination from the same party is an expression of regard and [illegible] for which it is difficult to make adequate acknowledgment

If anything exceeds the honor of the office of president of the United States it is the responsibility which attaches to it Having been invested with the [illegible] I understand the [illegible] especially in time of national trial cannot contemplate assuming it a second time without profoundly realizing the [illegible] obligations which it imposes and this [illegible] meantime problems which now press for settlement If my countrymen shall confirm the action of the convention at our national election in November I shall craving Divine guidance undertake the exalted trust to administer it for the interest and honor of the country and the well-being of the new peoples [illegible] our care

The Nominees of Four Years Ago

[illegible] by the convention [illegible] my heartiest [illegible] consider its subjects in detail and will by letter communicate to you claimant more formal acceptance of the [illegible]

On like occasion four years ago I said "The party that supplied by legislation the vast revenues for the conduct of our greatest war—that promptly restored the credit of the [illegible] abundant revenues paid off a large share of the debt incurred by this war and that resumed specie payments and placed our paper currency upon a sound and enduring basis can be safely trusted to preserve both our credit and currency with honor stability and inviolability The American people can hold the financial honor of government as sacred as our flag and can be relied upon to guard it with the same sleepless vigilance They hold its preservation as a party duty and have often demonstrated that party ties avail nothing when the spotless credit of our country is threatened

The dollar paid to the farmer the wage earner and the pensioner must continue forever equal in purchasing and debt paying power to the dollar paid to any government creditor

Our industrial supremacy our productive capacity our business and commercial prosperity our labor and its rewards our national credit and currency our pride financial honor and [illegible] the right of every American are all involved in the pending campaign and this every hope in the land is directly and intimately connected with their proper settlement

Our domestic trade must be won back and our idle working people employed in gainful occupations at American wages Our home market must be restored to its proud rank of first in the world and our foreign trade so precipitately cut off by adverse national legislation reopened on fair and equitable terms for our surplus agricultural and manufacturing products

Public confidence must be restored and the skill energy and capital of our country find ample employment at home The government of the United States must raise enough to meet both its current expenses and its growing need Its revenues should be raised so as not to put the material interests of our people with the highest possible [illegible] up in their resources and must retaining that high standard [illegible] country for more [illegible] existence

The national credit which has thus far fortunately resisted every assault upon it must and will be upheld and strengthened If sufficient revenues are provided for the support of the government there will be no necessity for borrowing money and increasing the public [illegible]

The Fulfillment

Three and one half years of legislation and administration have been concluded since these words were spoken Have those to whom was confided the direction of the government kept their pledges? The record is made up The people are not familiar with what has been accomplished The gold standard has been reaffirmed and strengthened The endless chain has been broken and the drain upon our gold reserve no longer frets us The credit of the country has been advanced to the highest place among all nations We are refunding our bonded debt bearing 5 and 4 per cent interest at a lower rate than that of any country and more than $700 000 000 have been funded with a gain to the government of many millions of dollars

Instead of 16 to 1 for which our opponents contended four years ago we

RENOUNCED DEMOCRACY

Chairman and Secretary of Teller County Silver Republicans Have Resigned.

Special to the Gazette

Cripple Creek July 12—The following letter has been transmitted to the Teller Silver Republican County Central committee

Cripple Creek Colo July 9 1900

To the Central Committee of the Teller Silver Republican Party of Teller County Colo

Gentlemen Four years ago the coming fall the Silver Republican party was [illegible] between the Republican and Democratic parties and after [illegible] the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 without aid

The people of Colorado eliminating party politics supported the Democratic candidates by nearly three fourths of the vote and placed the Democrats in power to the great detriment of the state of Colorado

Another national campaign is upon us but the issues are very different than those of four years ago To use the language of General A J Warner [illegible] of the founders of the Bimetallic League in his speech before the committee on platform and resolutions in the Democratic national convention I hold in my hand the platform of the Democratic party on the fifth day of this month which contains the declaration that the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 is a great moral principle and all nonsense Here we have the spectacle of Oklahoma and the Indian Territory and some of the small western states voting to sell states at Ohio Indiana New York and Pennsylvania it is absurd It would be simply impossible to carry Ohio or Indiana on any such platform as suggested in the majority of the resolutions committee The Germans will vote solidly against it for it is to be the front and paramount issue of the campaign This is not all The Democratic party will have to defend it from the minute the platform with a 16 to 1 declaration in it is adopted

We have the spectacle of a national Democratic convention of twenty three sitting representing each one of the 44 organized states this plank When the great Democratic leaders of California Connecticut Florida Illinois Indiana Georgia Louisiana Maryland Michigan Minnesota Mississippi New Jersey New York Ohio Pennsylvania Rhode Island [illegible] by their act in the committee on platform a determined opposition to incorporating a provision for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at 16 to 1 in the platform though defeated by a majority of two [illegible] that the Democratic party is not sure to win in the election to carry out this plank As a full proof of their independence in the [illegible] section we cite their nominations of Hon Charles A Towne for vice president and the nomination of Stevenson of Cleveland and not Democrat instead of Lewis

It was this momentous question back of which the apparent sincerity of the Democratic four years ago that led us with thousands of Silver Republicans to leave the Republican party Since we have [illegible] the insincerity of the Democratic party on this issue we believe that it is time to refuse longer to assist in [illegible] an issue of moment with the Silver Republican party at Kansas City announces through Senator Teller their adhesion to the Democratic platform

[illegible] Democratic ranks

Under these conditions we as the representative and secretary of the Teller County Silver Republican party refuse longer to support the Democratic [illegible]

In throwing off the last two years have brought us face to face with great political problems taking away the Democratic silver plank from the Democratic platform we believe the Republican party stands for policies that are best for us as a nation and a state while the Democratic party stands for a policy of retrogression that is positively repellant to patriotic thinking Americans The Democratic leaders acknowledge that silver is no longer an issue of moment they place militarism anti expansion and trusts above the silver question

The very fact that the gold Democrats of the east and south so much defeated in their opposition to a specific declaration for 16 to 1 by a majority of two is decisive evidence that the silver sentiment is so strong in the Democratic party that they wish to give to the west this silver issue solely to catch western votes and that at no time will their party if ever placed in power do anything for bimetallism hence a fight for silver at this time is a useless contest On the other hand what of the [illegible] supported by the Democratic party upon which all Silver Republicans agreed with the Republicans in 1897 Shall we abandon our principles on these great issues and vote against them solely for the purpose of raising flag [illegible] and fuse to test against the gold standard Shall we lend our aid to the Democrats because of their hypocritical pretense of friendship for silver [illegible] sion with its innumerable benefits to mankind and especially to the western portion of the United States

We will not support a party that would tear down the stars and stripes in [illegible] where they have been planted by the shedding of American blood No gentlemen of the committee while retaining our faith in the wisdom and justice of the silver [illegible] we cannot support through the Democratic party so dangerous a hollow issue these other great issues [illegible] in this presidential campaign and we cannot support [illegible] opposes all that is [illegible] for the sake of the great issue against the gold standard [illegible] vote to take a step backward in the march of American progress and prosperity we cannot vote against a greater America a greater west and greater Colorado we will not vote against the party that holds up the flag of our country and sustains the righteous cause for which the best blood of America has been shed because of this fictitious insincere hypocritical silver plank of the Democratic party Therefore with these words of explanation we desire to tender our resignations as the respective chairman and secretary of your committee and we request immediate acceptance of the same

Very respectfully yours

DEMOCRATIC SECRETARY

Minneapolis July 12—H P Stone of Minneapolis an alternate to the national Democratic convention was notified last night by a telegram from J K Jones chairman of the national committee that he had been appointed secretary of the committee with headquarters in Chicago

Yesterday was Chautauqua day at the Boulder Chautauqua, the attendance being very large.

A BRITISH DISASTER

Lord Roberts Reports Serious Defeat 18 Miles from Pretoria.

HEAVY CASUALTIES FEARED

Boers Captured Nitral's Nek Garrisoned by Considerable Force Part of Which Was Captured.

London July 12—Lord Roberts reports to the war office under date of Pretoria July 12 as follows

The enemy attacking forced in the attack upon our right rear, as mentioned in my telegram of July 9 made determined attack upon our right flank yesterday and succeeded in capturing Nitrals nek which was occupied by a platoon of the Scots Greys with two guns of a battery of the Royal Artillery and five companies of the Lincolnshire regiment

The enemy attacked in superior numbers at dawn and seizing the hills commanding the nek brought a heavy gun fire to bear upon the small garrison Nitrals nek is about 18 miles from here where the road crosses the Crocodile river It was held by us in order to maintain road and telegraphic communication with Rustenberg

The fighting lasted most of the day and immediately on receiving information this morning of the enemy's strength I dispatched reinforcements from here under Colonel Godfrey of the Kings Own Scottish Borderers Before however they reached the spot the garrison had been overpowered the guns and a greater portion of the squadron of the Greys had been captured owing to the horses being shot also about 90 men of the Lincoln regiment

A list of the casualties has not been received but I fear they are heavy

Dragoons Ambushed

Simultaneously an attack was made on our outposts near Durdepoort north of the town in which the Seventh Dragoons were ambushed but was handled with considerable skill [illegible] the enemy in check until they retired on their supports and would probably have suffered but slight loss had not our troops mistaken some fire for in the bushes for our own men

Smith-Dorrien had a small engagement with the enemy yesterday near Kruger sdorp and inflicted heavy loss

Buller reports that the Boers who were destroying his line of railway near Pieards Kraal were driven off yesterday after a short action

Hart reports from Heidelburg that the surrendering of Boer arms and ammunition continues in that district

News Is Serious

Lord Roberts dispatch reporting yesterday another unfortunate occurrence throws a serious light upon the state of affairs in South Africa There has been some comment recently regarding the virtual absence of progress by the immense army under command of Lord Roberts but few could have been found to believe that the scattered Boers were able to inflict such a defeat so near Pretoria

Instead of the surrender of all of the remaining Boers being imminent, as recent telegrams had hinted it seems they have been making a concerted attempt to surround or re-capture Pretoria with so much success that in their region which has supposed to be pacified and in which no attack was expected, they succeeded in inflicting a serious defeat and capturing two guns and some 200 men

It is evident that General Botha has considerable force enough that he is able to press Lord Roberts' lines at a half dozen points around Pretoria, from the springs to the southeast of the city, northward to Middleburg and Durdepoort and thence southward to Nitrals nek and Krugersdorp

May Be Worse Still.

Lord Roberts omits to give the name of the commander concerned giving rise to the belief that the worst remains to be told Even if the mishap be not more grave than his information [illegible] that the situation is still serious and there [illegible] of any troops being spared from South Africa for China but on the contrary it will take a long time to clear the country of the Boers.

News has reached London that Lord Roberts has been suffering from a serious bowel complaint and Lady Roberts was hurriedly summoned from Bloemfontein Lord Roberts, though [illegible]

ELKS' DECISION POSTPONED

Colorado Delegation Feels Certain It Will Win Out Next Year.

Special to The Gazette

Atlantic City N J July 12—The Elks completed their work late tonight and adjourned

The committee on Elks' Home made a unanimous report that the matter go over one year

The part of the report referring to the proposition of Colorado Springs was roundly applauded and the propositions of all other places were received in sanguine silence

The committee consisted of the exalted ruler three trustees and a special committee of three appointed by the exalted ruler The trustees and exalted ruler were open in their advocacy of Colorado Springs but the committee of three was divided in its opinion

The contest was so spirited that the friends of Colorado Springs on the committee felt its ends would be better served in waiting one year as the newly elected exalted ruler is entirely friendly and the old trustees were all reselected

The Colorado Springs delegation has done magnificent work It has acted with great wisdom and has made powerful friends who will never desert it Could the question have come to a vote tonight Colorado Springs would have won

The delegates from all stations of Colorado have stood loyally by the Springs and have done splendid work The Colorado delegation feels it certain the home will be landed next year

Much important work was done by the present grand lodge The western delegates are delighted over the location of the next lodge meeting at Milwaukee

Colonel Maloney Is Prepared to take His Coat Off.

SUNDAY SCHOOL OFFICERS

Rev Canon Rodgers Appointed Principal of Jarvis Hall—Old Tenements to Be Torn Down

Denver Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Denver [illegible] July 12 [illegible] they returned this evening from the Democratic national convention at Kansas City and [illegible] quiet on their election [illegible]

"I'll tell you," said he [illegible] talk about McKinley carrying the [illegible] all bosh. I had several long talks with Hill and Cricker and am satisfied that they will carry New York for Bryan this year. Ohio and Illinois are sure.

"How about Colorado? [illegible] I have come home to tell my [illegible] and go to work there now until after election and the [illegible] know what that means."

Col Maloney then excused himself on a very laudable pretext.

Sunday School Officers

The state Sunday school convention convened for the second day [illegible] and elected the following officers: [illegible] H Atwater state president; Jean L Weld secretary; H P Spencer treasurer; H Bessie press secretary; Cora Lowell of Colorado Springs; Charles L [illegible] of Pueblo and Rev F M Ware of Rouf [illegible]

In the matter of a state paper the subject was referred to the executive committee for final discussion. It is quite likely that the committee will favor the recommendation and a paper devoted to the interests of Sunday school work will be published in Colorado. The next convention will be held at Colorado Springs some time between May 30 and June 1, 1901.

THE NEWS OF CRIPPLE CREEK

Several Suits Filed in the District Court.

CONTROVERSY OVER COUPONS

To Settle Question of Right of a Railway Company to Define the Limits of the District.

Special to the Gazette

Cripple Creek, July 12.—Katie M Kaiser began suit today in the district court against Hiram B Allen in which she claims a verbal contract to the effect that the defendant agreed to deed to her a home if she would keep house for him in Anaconda. She entered into the employment of the defendant in December, 1894, and continued until August [illegible]. She alleges that she has fulfilled her part of the contract and considers her labor worth $340 for which she asks judgment.

Elizabeth Miro began a suit for $5,000 in the district court today against the Lucky Guss Mining company. The [illegible] which occurred July 7, 1899, by his falling down the shaft which the plaintiff alleges was caused by defective machinery.

Arthur S Dexter filed a suit in the district court against the Midland Terminal Railway company in which he asks $1,000 damages for having been put off the train by the conductor on the night of July 6 two miles north east of Cameron while on his way to Gillett, where he was going to obtain employment. He states in his complaint that he had purchased coupon tickets in Cripple Creek and offered them to the conductor in payment of his fare, that the conductor refused to accept the ticket beyond Cameron and told him that when he reached Cameron he would either have to get off the train or pay fare beyond that point. The question involved is the right of the railway company for use on suburban trains within the district. Dexter the plaintiff considers that Gillett is within the district while the railway company draws the limit at Cameron. The question upon which Mr Dexter's suit depends is whether or not the railway company has the right to define the limits within which the coupon tickets are to be used.

W J Burns began a suit against Robert Donald to recover possession of the Big Buck and Spotted Horse Lode Mining claims, both of which Donald claims in the years 1898, 1899 and 1900. The others have assigned their claims to Burns the amount being $1,000. [illegible]

[illegible] dume for the purpose of supplying the town with water. Prior to the construction of the dume the miners claim to have expended $1,000 upon their property which expenditure was rendered valueless by the escaping water from the city's dume. EVERY PIANO WARRANTED

Every Piano Marked In Plain Figures Only a Few More Days In This Sale.

A grand total of 14 pianos sold in the Knight-Campbell Music Co's special sale at this writing four days. Seven sold Wednesday. This sounds big it sounds awfully big to would be competition. How do we do it? Nothing secret about it.

In the first place. We offer only the very standard makes of high grade pianos in the very newest and latest designs—100 patterns. To be sure we [illegible] cases which have been used but we don't sell such and say they are new. It is as impossible to buy from the Knight Campbell Music Co a second hand piano represented to be a new one as it is to sell the mountain in Kansas. In second place you have in our store the largest stock in this city more than fifty pianos to select from and they are the greatest variety in style of wood and finish.

In the third place. We cut agents regular prices $[illegible] to $[illegible] and we guarantee with a contract [illegible]

In the fourth place. You get exactly what you buy. You make your own selection and we tell you all about the piano you select. When we tell you that this piano is better is of a higher grade than that you may depend upon what we say. The truth of our statements is as much guaranteed as [illegible] times about which we talk. Some few very few have this idea [illegible] but they are learning it and [illegible] which is the [illegible] one experience.

We find unfriendly toward a person who buys a piano elsewhere. If they want a new piano for $100 they have to buy it elsewhere. If they buy [illegible] for $211 [illegible] why should we feel unfriendly? We only feel sorry.

We ask you to read this then come to our place [illegible] read the plainly marked prices on every instrument note the grade of pianos which we are selling see for yourselves if what we say is true or not. Don't take our word for this but take the word of any person [illegible] of our goods and then if you are really looking for a bargain these or used pianos don't forget we say they are used and don't forget either that a high grade used piano is vastly [illegible] than any new cheap piano.

A used Whitney piano in fine condition not an old piano mahogany case three pedals large size a $400 grade. It goes in this sale for $151.

An excellent $150 grade piano must go. It is in fine condition a perfect piano in every way we guarantee it absolutely price in this sale $103.

A pretty piano not as much used as the above but not as good a grade of piano but it is in fine condition used only three months. We only ask for it $144.

You [illegible] and deduct 1 per cent to 40 per cent from regular prices. That's the way we are selling. New pianos best in the world $[illegible] $[illegible].

There are not many days remaining in this sale and there is no assurance that The Knight Campbell Music Co will ever conduct another sale in this city. We can hardly afford to at these prices. The time to get a bargain is when you are able to get it.

Store open every evening.

New Business

We are after new business. We think we are in a pretty good position to care for our regular customers. They seem to think it is to their advantage, as well as a little more pleasant, to deal at the 'New Book Store' than anywhere else.

But it is the persons who have never visited our store whose trade we are after. We want your trade and we think we shall get our share of it, if you will give us a trial.

Suppose you try us when you are in need of some thing in the way of books stationery and art interest in the contest for the prize of worth of property in Colorado, the candidates naturally begin to culate as to the possibility of some or may be two or three of the contants having an unfair advantage. erally complaints of this character e from street rumors and when investigated by the contest manager have ays been explained to the satisfaction of all interested parties, but how- they are always fully and carefully investigated and disproved to the re satisfaction of the candidates their friends. The Gazette courts ad of conducting the contest, and said in the beginning, when the comes and the award of the prize made, it will be determined who have the gift by a committee appointed by the candidates. The rules he contest as published at the beginning and again today are exactly the rules governing former contests, successfully and satisfactorily ducted by the Gazette, and it will well for all the candidates to again them carefully. If any one has changes to suggest, the contest nager will be glad to receive such gestions, and will proceed as provided in rule 10.

It will be observed that this rule provides that a majority of the candidates may change the rule at any time, and there certainly can be no more fair proposition than this. The Gazette simply referred to the most popular married couple in El Paso or Teller county. A summer cottage, and the result was 19 couples announced for the race for popularity. Then the rules were published providing practically that a majority of the contestants should consent the award, assisted by the Gazette, on the coupon plan. The contest so far has been a very interesting and from now on the race will be hot and furious. Of course there will be considerable bluffing by friends of various candidates, and all kinds of rumors as to the great strength of certain contestants will be circulated. But the timid candidates the Gazette's advice is: pay no attention to rumors. Hustle for coupons and vote them.

Rules of the Contest.

First. Any young married couple, eligible to the Gazette management, who resides in El Paso or Teller county, is eligible as a candidate. By young married couple shall be understood all married pairs whose combined age does not exceed 60 years and the date of whose marriage is between August 31st, 1899, and August 31st, 1900.

Second. No one in the employ of the Gazette or of anyone who may donate prizes, will be permitted to work in the interest of any of the candidates but must remain strictly neutral, except in the solicitation for the Gazette management.

Third. The subscription price will be 15 cents per week, or 60 cents per month, or three months for $1.75, delivered by carrier or sent to any address by mail, and on each subscription blank must be written plainly the name and address of the party to whom the Gazette is to be sent.

Fourth. The coupons must be neatly cut out of the Gazette each day and either mailed to the Gazette Coupon Business office, or deposited in the Gazette Coupon Box at the office. Coupons sent by mail will be at sender's risk, and to better insure delivery should be sent by express, charges prepaid. Each coupon may be voted for any one of the candidates in the contest.

Fifth. The contest will cover a period of 90 days from June 3d to August 31st, 1900, both dates inclusive, and the voting will close promptly at 12 o'clock noon on Saturday, September 1st, 1900, and after this time coupons cannot be voted, and any received will not be counted.

Sixth. A preliminary count of the votes cast from day to day will be made by the contest manager and announced in the Gazette each day. However, after the contest has ended each candidate may appoint a representative and these representatives shall constitute a committee who shall aid the contest manager in making the final count. Said committee may, if not satisfied with the contest managers count, canvass the whole vote. A majority of the committee shall have the right to announce the result of the standing of each candidate in the contest, and such decision shall be final and binding upon all interested parties. In case of a tie vote the contest manager may cast the deciding vote.

Seventh. The coupon shall be printed each day during the contest in the daily Gazette only, and no papers in large quantities shall be sold containing the coupon, and only the usual number of copies sold each day at 5 cents per copy at the news-stands and by the newsboys on the street shall be sold, thereby confining the contest to coupons cut from subscribers' papers so far as this can be controlled by the Gazette management.

Eighth. All Gazettes spoiled in printing, containing the coupon, shall be burned by the contest manager, and all copies used by the Gazette for the files shall have the coupon cancelled.

Ninth. Candidates may announce for the contest up to and including Sunday, July 1st, 1900; after said date no further announcements will be received. Candidates may withdraw from the contest at any time, but cannot announce such withdrawal in the Gazette as being in the interest of any other contestant; nor can any portion of the votes cast for candidates withdrawing be transferred to any other contestant.

Tenth. These rules may be amended at any time during the contest by a majority vote of all the contestants at any meeting of the candidates duly called by the contest manager; subject, however, to the approval of the Gazette management.

NEWS AND NOTES OF MANITOU

REPUBLICANS WILL ORGANIZE AT MANITOU

A Republican club is soon to be organized in Manitou. All the leading members of the party have expressed an eager desire to join the club and definite arrangements are now being made to organize for a live work. The Republicans at Manitou have always closely associated in their efforts to promote the interests of their party and it is expected that a great deal more campaign work can be accomplished if the club is organized. Those who have the matter in hand say that the club will be organized with at least 100 members, and that many more will join as the interest increases. The club will solicit the services from any men of national reputation who may stop in Manitou during the summer and fall.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Congregational church is arranging to hold a social supper on Monday evening, July 23, in the parlors of the National hotel. The ladies have adopted a most novel scheme of securing the articles to be sold. Each of them has written to a well known manufacturer and requested a number of samples of his goods, at the same time explaining how they were to be used. The manufacturers have responded most liberally and the ladies have already received several large boxes of samples. These will be sold and doubtless a neat sum will be realized.

The Manitou postoffice is experiencing a heavy business. The amount of mail being handled is fully as large as that handled during the same month last season.

Mrs. Katz Lenton, a well known hypnotist of Los Angeles, Cal., pleasantly entertained a small company of people last evening at the home of Mrs. C. J. Perkins on Washington avenue.

Mr. C. F. Tschudi of the Manitou Journal returned Wednesday morning from a few days' business visit in Salt Lake.

Mrs. M. E. Mayhew and Miss Rock have well have returned to Manitou from a few weeks' visit in Tucson, Arizona.

Rev. F. L. Hayes and family have returned from Washington, D. C., and other eastern points, where they spent a few weeks visiting with relatives. Rev. Hayes will preach as usual at the Congregational church next Sunday.

Mr. H. J. Holtis confined to his room with a severe attack of [illegible]

Mr. Frank Neff, a teamster for the Manitou Transfer company, was the victim of a painful accident [illegible] occurred Tuesday afternoon on Buxton avenue. He was hauling a heavy load of coal down the avenue, and while attempting to drive across the car tracks the wheels caught between the rails and the wagon was thrown over upon its side. Mr. Neff fell heavily to the ground, striking his head. He was removed to his home and is now fast recovering.

LUCIFER ON PRISONS.

Writer in Convict Newspaper Declares Devil Invented Penal Code.

(Hutchins Hapgood in Ainslee's.)

"A very intersting and able article in Star of Hope, the convict newspaper in Lucifer on Prisons," published Jan. 13 of this year. The superintendent objected to this article, apparently not so because of its specific criticism as for its general cynical condemnation of the criminal code and penal institutions. Sing Sing 372—the author of several other able papers—tells how he was sitting in his cell when a sprucely dressed individual appeared to him and talked on the administration of criminal law—a man 'more qualified to speak authoritatively on such subjects than any man now living.' This was Lucifer. The writer, nevertheless, assures the inmates of Sing Sing that he was in his right mind, having eaten [illegible] but that curious conception served to us thrice a day which some sarcastic individual has dubbed 'coffee.' Lucifer says he has run up to Sing Sing to look after the Penal code, which he claims to have invented. He has been in Massachusetts and other states trying to counteract the reforms in prison regulations, and then I came here and found the same old rules in force. No reform, nothing to worry me. Lucifer had brought a number of chairs to give to his friends among the keepers, and after lighting one proceeded to tell the story of his two pet inventions, the Penal Code and the punitive system. He told very cleverly how he had [illegible] Lucifer, [illegible] lations, he had arranged to confine the convicts for certain terms in solitary on circumstances which would make them serve him excellently. It was, of course, necessary to have love and justice left out of the arrangement. It was also necessary to decrease health and speed, so he invented the prison stripes, the shaving system, [illegible] Lucifer arranged to suppress it.

"To this end I would ticket them with numbers, like specimens in a museum, [illegible] that should confront and throttle every natural expression of the ego; rules which, in their imbecile barbarity, should require that a man become a machine, thus weakening the mental and sapping [illegible] consort from intercourse with his fellows by which alone the good that is in him may find at once its stimulus and its expression.

"As a final step, in order to avoid the chance of a convict belonging a good citizen, Lucifer invented the 'clock step,' in order to brand him forever in society as a man who had 'done time.'

"The lock step is rather ingenious; it requires a peculiar and noticeable carriage of the body, and an equally eccentric movement of the lower limbs. In the course of time these become habitual, and the results are a foundling and slantingness of the shoulders, an unevenness in the gait, which are quite unmistakable. The lockstep is also valuable in that, like the prison garb, and the hair-clipping, it hurts a man's self-respect.

"Mrs. Booth and her work in the prisons Lucifer described as a thorn in his flesh. 'She beats the Devil,' he said, and explained that her doctrines were against his interests because they practically inculcate that prisons do not protect society. Crime is not to be prevented by fear of punishment. x x x It is largely—first, the effect of social conditions; second, the product of the prison itself. Direct your efforts to removing causes, and effects disappear. The value of all punishment is determined solely by its practical utility as a deterrent. And if such utility it becomes immoral in that punishment as punishment is the prerogative of the Almighty alone.

Sarah Bernhardt's Debut.

Her first impulse, upon leaving the convent for good, was to become a nun! St. Augustine, the patron saint of the institution where she was brought up, and whose pictures were plentiful there, had been her first love, and she was also deeply devoted to her little golden image. But fate had other things in store for Sarah. To begin with, a glover, a tanner and a chemist successively asked her hand in marriage. The purchase of some marshmallows had instigated the pharmaceutical passion, which haughty Sarah rejected, as she had the honest sighs of the glover and the tanner. The Duc de Morny, a friend of her mother's, then gave his opinion that Sarah ought to go upon the stage. Her mother considered, [illegible] yielded to the duke's persuasion and allowed her child to apply for admission to the Conservatoire. The manner in which she recited in the "Two Pigeons" by La Fontaine, secured her a place at once. Auber, the composer, and Regnier, the poet, were on the examining board.

Regnier predicted she would become a comedienne, and one of his colleagues that she would be a tragedienne, but another one of the directors prophesied a yet more alluring prospect—that she would be both.

So Sarah went to work. But she did so without the least enthusiasm. She felt no call for the histrionic profession. Her likes and dislikes had not [illegible] education had simply been thrust upon her. She had been at a theater for the first time in her life a [illegible] before the examination, when she saw "Antigone" at the Comedie Francaise. The piece made her cry.

The stage had no attractions for her. During her course at the conservatoire she often wept bitter tears and complained to her governess of her inability for painting. Every day [illegible] her the money to pay for two omnibus fares—her own and her governess' but they walked, and took a cab when [illegible] did not care to rub shoulders with promiscuous humanity. Nor does she now.—Lionel Strachey in Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for July.

America's Competition for the Shipbuilding Industry.

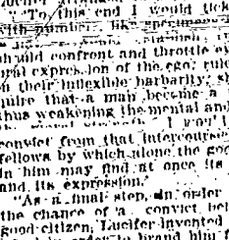
The United States have commenced the present fight for a foremost place among ship-building nations—a struggle upon which they are now fairly engaged—under conditions very much different from those which obtained in the case of other nations, or even from those existing in America when the clipper ships gained for her the supremacy of the seas. At the outset of the career of the United States as a nation, the great natural storehouses of material contained in the American forests gave the new nation a considerable advantage, and this was augmented by the impetus given to Yankee inventive ability by the emoluments certain to accrue to the builder of a speedy and powerful privateer. On the other hand, Great Britain in the early development of the metal vessels had the field largely to herself, and she in turn had the advantage of superior sources of material supply. Recognition may well be made at the outset, therefore, of the fact that the United States are seeking to regain their position in the ship-building world under the fiercest competitive conditions.—Waldin Fawcett in the Engineering Magazine for July.

DON'T FEAR LIGHTNING.

Only 312 Out of 80,000,000 Struck in a Year.

A reference to lightning brought out the fact that the weather bureau is using its ponderous organization for the collection of lightning statistics. The officials are less concerned with the identification of the thunderbolt than they are with the disastrous effects. According to lightning statistics, 312 inhabitants of the United States, on an average, are struck by lightning each year. Twenty-five hundred were struck during the last nine years. Farmers suffered most probably because of their exposed occupation, for the danger from lightning is found to be four times as great in the country as in cities. January naturally is the least dangerous month, and July is the most dangerous. [illegible] sons were killed during July, 1899. During the eight years ending with 1897, 7,658 buildings, valued at $17,672,772, were destroyed by lightning. 4,881 of these were barns. Comparatively few churches were struck. In 1896 buildings valued at $1,441,800 were [illegible] Texas state headed the list with 395. There was no disastrous strokes in Idaho, Arizona, California, Oregon, Nevada or Utah. In the same year 1,842 animals, valued at $45,000, were killed by 710 strokes of lightning. This mortality was unequally divided among cattle, horses, mules, pigs and sheep, whole flocks of the latter being killed by single bolts. There is no means of finding out the exact number of trees struck, but it is interesting to know that the list of liability is headed by the oaks. Firs, beeches, pines, larches, ash and birch trees are most liable to be struck in the order named, on account of their conducting qualities. The record shows an increase in the number of damage dealing lightning strokes, especially in Europe. But the cause of this has not yet been discovered. The only definite fact observed by the bureau is that these violent manifestations seem to occur in connection with the movement of sluggish cyclonic areas across the country during the warmer months.—(Theodore Waters in Ainslee's.)

"I was suffering with what the doctor called chronic indigestion, torpid liver and vertigo," says Mrs. Martha E. Barham, of Newville, Prince George Co., Va. "My symptoms were giddiness in the head, pains in my chest and an uneasy feeling all over. I also had female weakness. I was all run down, and could not do any work without suffering from nervous attacks, so I vertigo. You asking me to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription.' I used five bottles of each. I gained in health and strength. When I commenced to use the medicines I weighed only 112 pounds, now I weigh 140. My husband and friends all thought that I would die, but to-day I am a well woman."



Mrs. Barham's experience is not singular. Thousands have given similarly strong and convincing testimony. There are no other medicines in the world that have such a long and continuous record of cures.

There are no other medicines "just as good" or "just the same" as Doctor Pierce's. Like all valuable things these medicines are sometimes imitated. Don't be imposed upon. See that you get what you ask for.

If you have any doubt as to the nature of your ailment write fully, giving your symptoms, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. He will consider your case carefully and will tell you, absolutely free of charge, what to do to get well.

DEMOCRATS AND SILVER.

THE Democratic party is constituted as the party of opposition. It is opposed to whatever the Republican party has done or contemplates doing, and it is always ready to announce itself in favor of any plan which is indorsed by a number of voters sufficient to make their support worth the trouble.

It is a part of its plan to take advantage of every disaffection or difference that may exist among Republicans, and it is always ready to conciliate these disaffected elements and to adopt them into the Democracy on terms sometimes fair to them but always advantageous to the Democrats.

A striking instance of this willingness of the Democracy to do almost anything in order to get votes is given by the action of the Kansas City convention in regard to the silver plank. The question at issue was the adoption of the direct reference to free coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1, it being generally understood that an indefinite indorsement of the Chicago platform without special reference to silver would be equivalent to an abandonment of the silver issue. In the committee the vote was 26 to 21 in favor of the silver plank, but the majority in its favor was, it is said, due to the vote of Hawaii, a territory with no votes in the electoral college, whose representative changed his vote after the first count showed it to be. Besides Hawaii four other territories voted for silver and one territory voted against it, so that the vote by states was 23 to 21 against silver. But the 23 states against silver have 357 electoral votes, and the 21 states for silver have 157 electoral votes, so that it was plainly evident that the convention would, if the matter was brought before it, vote against silver by a nearly two to one vote. It was then that compromise manifested itself in a truly Democratic manner. To placate the silver men the committee, and afterwards the convention, deliberately adopted by a unanimous vote a falsehood. It declared its indorsement of 16 to 1 when the committee vote had clearly shown that the party was not in favor of that principle, and then in order to cancel and nullify the effect of what it had done it undertook to specify which one of its contentions was to be voted upon by the people. To the anti imperialist plank it attached a shingle which says in effect: "This is the real thing. Do not be misled by anything you may find laterson."

That the shingle and not the silver plank represents the real sentiments of a majority of the party at the present time there is no doubt, but the particular point under discussion is the dishonesty of a party that would adopt as a part of its platform a political principle in which the large majority of its membership had ceased to believe.

Under the circumstance no thinking person can have any reasonable idea that the Democracy would do anything for silver in the seemingly impossible event of its success.

Once before under circumstances that promised much for silver, the Democratic party brought disaster upon the country by its frantic effort to do what it was pledged to do in its platform. It would be very much less likely to accomplish anything for silver at the present time, for the reason as before stated that the party has already put itself on record as being opposed to its own platform and having adopted the silver plank merely to suit Mr. Bryan and those associated with him in western states.

FILIPINOS AND INDIANS

A GREAT many people living in Colorado remember when the Indian question was a very interesting [illegible] their special treatment. [illegible] the paramount issue in Colorado towns used to be known when men would sit up all night with rifles in their hands telling the thing over.

As a result of some of these midnight conferences of our pioneer expansionists the theory found favor that there was no good Indian but a dead Indian.

Some of our grandfathers or possibly our great grandfathers remember, or if they were too young they would remember, when a similar condition of affairs prevailed in eastern states and it was regretfully necessary at frequent intervals to enforce civilization and incidentally to defend their lives by some other means than the persuasive power of a high and honorable example, which is alleged by the Democratic platform of A. D. 1900 to be sufficient in all such cases.

At the time of the Colorado episode to which reference has been made some of the grandsons and great grandsons of the aforesaid ancestors having purified the universe by acts of their own immediate neighborhood not by the persuasive force of a high and honorable example, however conceived it to be a part of their mission in life to be willing to contribute to the progress of mankind by allowing themselves to be scalped and their wives and children to be tortured in accordance with an imaginary theory of the inalienable right of every man to do as he pleases otherwise to do as he pleases. When contrast the manner in contrast to one already mentioned here that a white man has no rights that the Indian is bound to respect, criticise the people of the West for what they were and [illegible].

The great majority of the American people east and west occupied a middle ground between the two extremes, and as usual in such cases in time came to see their position sanctioned by all without regard to the radicals on one side or the other. [illegible] on having passed from the active state it is not surprising at the present time to see that many of the same people who twenty or thirty years ago were questioning the right of [illegible] themselves by force against Utes or Arapahoes now liking the ground that nothing should be done to interfere with the rights of self government possessed by Tagals, Visayas, Moros and the other forty seven more or less tribes and sub tribes of the Philippines.

Experience has proven that the Indian can be educated and made a good citizen, and so doubtless can the Filipino. But the difference between Geronimo and the cultured Apache young gentleman who was recently a visitor in Colorado Springs should be an intimation that something else is necessary to self government besides an inherent right on one side [illegible] on the other.

In the resumption of the St. Louis street car strike the interests of the public are disregarded as usual. If the company has violated the agreement, as is alleged, there ought to be some way to compel it to keep its promise, if the strikers are at fault the matter should be determined impartially and then no one should be permitted to interfere in any way with the company's exercise of the functions allotted to it by the state.

Mr. Bryan's opening remark for the campaign of 1900 was significant.

He felt almost as if he ought to apologize for not being able to call himself a former Republican.

Leave on the world, former and millions of Democrats all over the country [illegible]

TEN FACTS OF HISTORIC VALUE.

(From the New York World.)

1. Neither Senator Jones, the chairman of the National Democratic committee, who called the Kansas City convention to order, nor Governor Thomas, of the silver state of Colorado, its temporary chairman, nor Representative Richardson, the leader of the Democrats in the house, permanent chairman, said in his speech one word in favor of free coinage or mentioned 16 to 1.

2. Senator Money of Mississippi, a strong supporter of free silver, when that question was a living issue, said in the platform committee that an actual canvass of the convention made by the chairman of each state delegation showed only 171 votes in favor of a 16 to 1 plank out of 930 delegates.

3. The platform committee in its first and unfettered expression on this question showed a majority against a 16 to 1 plank.

4. The free silver plank was finally adopted in the committee after a twelve hours struggle by one vote that of the delegate from Hawaii—a striking illustration of the political possibilities involved in the new policy of imperial expansion. The die of national election was cast by the delegate from a newly acquired territory having no electoral vote and a population of less than 2,000 male white Americans.

5. Four other votes for the silver plank were cast by delegates from territories having no voice in the presidential election—Arizona, Indian territory, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

6. Nine states of the original solid south—the bulwark of the Democratic party—voted against the free silver plank, and only four in its favor.

7. Of the twenty one states voting for this plank only thirteen are Democratic, and their total electoral vote is only 95.

8. The twenty three states voting against this plank have 297 electoral votes, and among them thirteen are now or were before 1896 doubtful—the deciding states in every presidential election.

9. The final majority of one in the platform committee was secured only by the personal insistence of Mr. Bryan and his explicit threat that he would not accept the nomination if the policy of 16 to 1 were not distinctly declared. He announced that he would personally assume all the responsibility for the result.

10. The reason given by Mr. Bryan for this insistence in his statement made immediately after the nomination, was that if we had only Democrats to deal with a simple reaffirmation would have been sufficient, but we have to deal with Republicans as well as Democrats and some of the Republicans would misconstrue a reaffirmation and endeavor to twist it into an evasion or amendment of the silver question. By Republicans Mr. Bryan meant of course Silver Republicans whose convention was then in session at Kansas City, and he had in mind also as he has said before the Populists who had previously nominated him upon a 16 to 1 platform.

So that upon the plain facts of the case and by Mr. Bryan's admission as to his allies the fatal and futile policy of 16 to 1 was forced into the Democratic platform this year against the judgment of the wisest Democratic leaders, against the preponderance of Democratic votes in the nation, against the wish and over the protest of the great majority of the delegates, BECAUSE the forerunner and inevitable candidate for president demanded it for the avowed reason that "we have to deal with Republicans as well as Democrats" and are in the bonds of a fictitious fusion.

[illegible] in politics in the fact that the Democratic party risks its very life and puts in peril the interests of our free institutions upon an issue not desired by Democrats not involved in this election, but forced upon it to please a small and contemptible faction of Silver Republicans?

The Democratic party is to be attacked by Republicans as revolutionary and dangerous upon an issue thrust upon it by Republican votes.

This is indeed one of the grim ironies of fate. Mr. [illegible] borne by a presidential candidate.

PRESIDENT M'KINLEY'S CAMPAIGN.

PRESIDENT McKINLEY will take no active part in the campaign for his reelection. His reason for this is characteristic of the man. Four years ago he was the leader of his party, but today he is the president of the United States and his chief concern is for the business of the nation. The people know what he is and what his party is. They have had abundant opportunity to see what it is capable of doing and if they desire a continuance of the same conditions and policies they will undoubtedly reelect him in November.

But in the meantime the affairs of the country need attention and it is the president's business to attend to them. And that is what he is doing and it leaves him no time to engage in speechmaking and electioneering.

It would be a good thing for the country if its office holders both state and national would follow the excellent example set by President McKinley.

In Colorado, for instance, we have a governor who seems to think of everything and to do everything except his official duties and the business of the state. A part of the time he is engaged in his private law business, a part is devoted to an arduous support of his own candidacy for the United States senate to which his official [illegible] and for still another part he is promoting the interests of the Democratic party by active campaign work which might fit an aspiring candidate who had never felt the dignity of official position but which is singularly unbefitting the chief magistrate of a great state.

There can be no reasonable objection to a proper participation in politics of a public officer. Governor Thomas has the same right to take part in the Kansas City convention as has any other American citizen of Democratic faith, and his participation there was an honor to the state. But any officer whoever he may be who neglects the public business for his private affairs or who subordinates the public interests to his personal ambition deserves censure and will receive it too.

Colorado Springs is growing rapidly, but it is not growing any faster than its surprising resources and the greatness of its opportunity warrants. Indeed in some respects we are inclined to think that it is not growing fast enough. There is a constant demand for residences, store rooms and business offices, and while there is more building going on than there ever was in any previous year of the city's history it is altogether probable that the demand for such accommodations will keep ahead of the supply. As the Cripple Creek railroad progresses it becomes apparent how great a benefit this is going to be to Colorado Springs, not only in direct ways but also in many more or less indirect ways. New reduction works, new manufactories, new enterprises of various kinds which will be required in the future in Colorado Springs. The person who realizes these things and lays his plans wisely and well to take advantage of them is the one who will be pointed out as one of Colorado Springs' successful citizens in coming years.

Mr. Bryan says he will not ask anyone to vote our ticket merely because it is the ticket of the party.

From which it is to be presumed that he will ask for votes because it is the ticket recommended by Populists and Silver Republicans.

Whatever Mr. Towne himself may think of it the Nebraska Populists are of the opinion that his nomination [illegible]

THE WET DAY LIFT.

Have you noted the disease
That upon each maid doth seize
When the summer sky is clouded and [illegible]
When the street is with mud overflow
It doth strike us hardest blow
And no hassle is exempt for it attacks them all.

Now this is no merry jest
For it plainly manifest
Whenever rainy weather matters
Towards drift
And its symptoms have been seen
Ever since Eve's leaf skirt green
We call it just the wet day lift.

Its chief use is to expose
An array of giddy hose
And a vastly moulded ankle to attract the gaze
With a noisy silken skirt
Which each charming little flirt
Serenely and unconsciously (of course) displays.

It requires no little art
For a maiden to impart
To the whole proceeding quite a careless air
Just as if she [illegible]
Lest her garments be mud stained
With no thought of giving rubbernecks a vision rare.

Hence it seemeth somewhat strange
That her habits never change
Be her skirts just to her shoe-tops [illegible]
And each dainty little dear
Will endeavor to appear
That she hates the rainy weather
She is always out.

This disease has not a cure
If it had we're very sure
There's none could make a maiden take
It for a gift
And as long as time shall last
It will hold all classes fast
Till people [illegible] spout the wet day lift.

At the Mint

Do you really think, remarked the greenback, that you're worth a dollar?

Well, replied the silver coin, that's my impression.

As to Running

"I have observed," said Jabloff, "that office will make the bravest of men run."

"Dewey, for instance."

Solicitude for Her

"John, I think there's a burglar in [illegible]"

"Well, my dear, if you are uncertain and anxious about it, you won't sleep a wink tonight. You better get up and look through the house for him to make sure."

POLITICAL PARAGRAPHS.

(Contributed.)

The total gross earnings of railroads were $38,000,000 larger last year than in 1899.

Every corn fed steer in Nebraska is now worth $12 to $15 more than in 1896. Farmers in that state will hardly vote for Democratic free [illegible].

The sentiment in favor of the passage of the ship subsidy bill grows strong[er] and stronger all over the country as the statistics of our foreign trade for the fiscal year just ended are studied.

Nebraska hogs sold in Omaha May 21st at $4.70 a head more than on the same date four years ago, yet the World-Herald, Mr. Bryan's organ, which is published in Omaha, assigns every circumstance during the 1896 campaign [illegible] products could advance without the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

Under this administration our farmers, merchants and manufacturers have [illegible] open to them in equal competition with other nations.

Two billion two hundred millions of dollars was the value of our foreign commerce during the fiscal year just ended, of which American vessels carried 9[illegible] per cent, foreign ships carrying 98 per cent, and earning $200,000,000 at the expense of the American people.

Utah sheep various compared—18 follow:

Year	Number	Value	Average
1895	[illegible]	$[illegible]	$[illegible]
1897	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1899	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1900	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

Sheep are worth more than twice as much this year in Utah as they were worth in 1895.

During the fiscal year just closed our foreign commerce for the first time in 203 previous years with American vessels carried a smaller proportion of it than ever before.

The colonies of France alone import $[illegible] worth of goods annually.

The carrying of our vastly increased foreign commerce in our ships only [illegible] to which the American people are [illegible] charges alone.

The American claim to universal territorial rights in China was based on the claim when we were about the only people who had not taken a slice of China.

President McKinley urged that the duties be revised until the Dingley tariff should revive and encourage manufactures. This has been well and as our wage earners well know.

The increase in the foreign trade of the United States during the fiscal year just closed as compared with the previous year will probably aggregate over three hundred millions of dollars, by far the greatest in our history, and yet the proportion of our trade carried in American vessels was the lowest of any previous year.

Under the operation of the Wilson free trade tariff for revenue only there was a deficit of $[illegible] in thirty five months. Under the Dingley tariff protection there was a surplus of $46,000,000 in 32 months.

Although about 4,000,000 tons of merchant vessels were built in the United States during the year which ended on June 30, 1900, the Commissioner of Navigation says there will be no increase in our tonnage in the foreign trade while the proportion of our foreign trade carried in American vessels will be less than during any previous year in our national history.

Since the 4th of March 159 Congress has authorized the construction of [illegible] ships with a total displacement of 234,484 tons. This includes battleships, armored cruisers, cruisers of the first class, four gunboats and nine protected cruisers. There have been completed and placed in commission in the same time a total of thirty-two vessels with an aggregate displacement of 2[illegible] tons. This is an unexampled record and it could only have been accomplished by a Republican Administration.

Over 400,000 tons of merchant vessels were built in the United States during the fiscal year which ended on June 30, [illegible] gross tons was built exclusively for our foreign trade.

American credit stands higher than that of any other nation.—Republican Platform.

It was not so when the last Democratic President was trying to borrow money in England.

While merchant vessels worth fifty millions of dollars were built in the United States during the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1900, but one small steamship worth not to exceed $150,000 was built exclusively for our foreign trade.

In the interest of our expanding commerce we recommend that Congress create a Department of Commerce and Industries in the charge of a Secretary who shall sit in the Cabinet.—Republican Platform.

Such a policy will help to extend the markets for the products of our farms and factories, thus assuring a better demand for both and the steady employment of American labor.

Although the construction of merchant vessels in the United States in the fiscal year just ended has exceeded that of any previous year but one (1894) since the Civil War only one small steamship was built exclusively for the foreign trade.

Then the dormant conscience of modern Democracy [illegible] party had recourse to appeal to the shades of Jackson and Jefferson for endorsement of their present vagaries.

No national ticket ever nominated [illegible] more genuine satisfaction to the party and more trouble to its opponents than the one nominated by the Philadelphia convention.

Our Bank Deposits

The following statement of the net deposits in all the national banks of the United States is interesting:

Sept. 7, 1899	$1,270,766,067
Dec. 13, 1899	825,604,958
Republican increase	$445,665,710

This shows that within three years the increase in the national bank deposits exceeded $118,000,000. There was therefore an increase of only $70,000,000 in the national bank deposits during President Cleveland's term but an increase of $418,000,000 during three years of President McKinley's term.

The Mediaeval Church and the Reformation

In a particularly welcome article on the preparation of histories in The International Monthly for July Professor Hinsson of Columbia University says:

We should not be blind to the fact that it was the church rather than the warring secular rulers which made for peace, good order and the fundamental benefits of security of person and property. The theory of certain churchmen that civil government was devil-born, the invention of Cain and Nimrod, doubtless seemed to an impartial observer of the 11th century ample warrant for its existence. If the one church, not the incipient and still chaotic state, which established the Truce of God, when the Protestant writers come to the Lutheran revolt they must necessarily speak of the church again, but a page or two on indulgences, dispensations and drunken monks is an allusion to the chained Bible, and the veneration in which the comb of St. Anne and the Virgin's petticoat were held [illegible] Luther's [illegible] why upright, conscientious and clear-sighted scholars persevere in clinging to the absurd anachronism of the mediaeval church or gladly returned to its bosom after a temporary estrangement for the [illegible] of [illegible]. Not can this possibly become intelligible until the traditional [illegible] of its church is replaced by an impartial scholarly estimate of the true greatness of the majestic organization under whose auspices Europe advanced from the barbarism of the 10th to the enlightenment of the 16th century.

Cells in Biology

Professor Wilson in The International Monthly for July, has given to the public an article on the origin of life and heredity, which is intelligible to any reader. In explanation of the cell theory he says:

The cellular structure of plants and animals was dimly perceived two centuries ago by those pioneers of microscopical research, Leeuwenhoek, Malpighi, Grew, Hooke and their followers. It was not, however, until the wave of modern scientific inquiry set in, which in the first three decades of the 19th century was under full headway, that a clear view was attained of the limitless vista of research in this field that had been disclosed to the naturalist by the microscope. The story of the foundation of the cell-theory by Schleiden and Schwann in 1839-40 of its development by Remak, Virchow and other investigators of their time has often been told.

It has been shown that the body of every higher plant or animal is composed of a vast host of microscopic protoplasmic masses, the cells, while in the lowest and simplest organisms the entire body consists of one such cell. That out of cells or their products every part is built, and that, widely as they vary in the details of structure and function, all the cells are constructed upon the same general plan and exhibit the same fundamental modes of activity. Cells were thus recognized as the ultimate structural and physiological units in the activities of which lie the sources of the normal bodily functions, while to their perversion may be traced the causation of [illegible]. Yet in this the pregnant fact had at first to step in, come established that cells never arise de novo as a crystal forms in the mother liquid, but all formed only by division of pre-existing cells. All the cells of the body have thus arisen by unbroken descent from their common progenitor, the egg cell, and the latter is itself but a division product of a cell pre-existing in the parent body. Microscopical research thus brought to light the wonderful fact that the cell is not only the seat of vital activity, but is also the vehicle of hereditary transmission, and further that the life of successive generations of living beings shows no break, but is a continuous vital stream, in which, as Virchow said, rules an eternal law of continuity.

Republican Gains in Southern Colorado

Every trip out into the state brings [illegible] reading Republican sentiment remarked Halstead L. Ritter as his head protruded from a Rio Grande car window. Mr. Ritter is the secretary of the young Men's Republican club of Denver which has a membership that is larger than most of such organizations of the west.

Have just been down to Trinidad and to the ranches and towns out over the southern part of the state. He went out [illegible] of the fusion plan. Of course the district I traversed is largely populated by sheepmen and they in particular are well satisfied with the administration but the fusion legislation which has done nothing save endanger their interests.

They have prospered during the four years and are afraid to risk a change. Fusion or no fusion Colorado will go Republican this fall by a small majority. The Populists have literally dumped themselves into the Democratic amphitheater and the Silver Republicans are all coming back to us leaving it a two sided fight with big majorities in our favor.

Working people over the state with whom I have come in contact cannot be led off again after a silver donkey and rely upon theories of disaster when a genuine condition of prosperity is at hand every home as it has done. With full stomachs fat pocketbooks and plenty of work workingmen who are not wedded to Bryanism and cling for loyalty's sake will not change a different ticket.

Burro Operators In Legal Mix-Up

An interesting case entitled The Town of Manitou vs. C. A. Morrison was tried yesterday morning before Justice Faulkner at Manitou. It occupied the entire forenoon. The case grew out of a controversy which took place several days ago between the defendant and a man named Carter. Both men keep burro stands and each came to the conclusion that the other was taking advantage of him in the business in which they were engaged. Their troubles finally grew so serious that Carter had Morrison arrested. Morrison soon found grounds for a charge against Carter and his partner Alex Green arrested.

According to the complaint filed against Morrison he was charged with having let burros out for hire without a license from the city council. Carter claimed that the defendant let his burros out for hire without a license and that [illegible] party for the use of the animals. The defendant averred however that he had been letting his burros to parties but that he had received no pay for the reason that he had no right to make any charges until he received his license which would be on July 15. The [illegible] who went with the party named in the complaint had taken the money for his own services and not as pay for the use of the burros. The court held that the evidence given by the prosecution did not show that the defendant had let his burros out for hire and the case was dismissed.

The case of The Town of Manitou vs. Carter and Green will be tried in Justice Faulkner's court.

Santos and Rio As Coffee Markets

[illegible] S. Baillie registering in the Bilk [illegible] has made a comfortable fortune in coffee in South America and [illegible] touring the world with his wife [illegible] king for a location and will probably settle in America somewhere. He said at the Alta Vista last night: "We like Colorado springs but I do not think we shall settle here. It is an interesting place for invalids and others but we have all of the winter. However we were not for the change to a high altitude might locate."

Mr. Baillie has been in Rio de Janeiro and Santos for 20 years dealing in coffee and is well versed on conditions in the little republic to the south since the overthrow of the empire. [illegible] pleasing extent and the outlook is very promising, he said. One of the chief counts of proof [illegible] assistance given the coffee business by the Arbuckles of the United States. They have long workers and all south America appreciates it looking upon [illegible] commercial interests. I bought coffee for the Arbuckles for several years at Santos which is perhaps a larger coffee market than Rio and I am sure that the United States also has received great benefit from their operations because they have taught the people what good coffee is. At the same time the firm has made immense fortunes for its members.

Mr. and Mrs. Baillie will take in the Midland wildflower excursion today.

MISS CORINNA SHATTUCK TO SPEAK HERE SUNDAY

Miss Corinna Shattuck, one of the best known missionaries in the foreign field by reason of her great and valiant work in Turkey during the period of [illegible] years ago is going to speak an address on Sunday morning at the First Congregational church.

She is well known in Colorado Springs and will undoubtedly speak to a crowded house. Miss Shattuck went to Turkey as a missionary under the American Board [illegible] for ten years in 18[illegible] returned to Turkey on half pay to do her work. When the terrible massacres occurred in 1895 she was alone at Marsovan three days' journey from the great American college. In the massacres that swept over the city in which she lived she with the [illegible] attack permission was secured by friends from the government for a safe escort for her to go to a place of greater safety. She refused to go [illegible] that was. During the massacre our house was full. Two hundred and forty in all found refuge. All our houses and schoolroom are full of widows and orphans and wounded. How willingly would I have died could my death have spared parents or their children. I remain here. I will not leave our persecuted people. As soon as possible she began to organize relief work helped with funds from Great Britain, Germany and America. About 2,500 were burned up in the Greek church cathedral. Children were not in general killed and some escaped while all the grown members of their families perished. One little girl under her care is the sole survivor of a family of sixteen. Besides complete orphans she has children of widows who have been killed. Taking only the most needy she has gathered into the homes 500 of the 600 fatherless ones in Marsovan. Germans, English and Americans are aiding in their support but there are still 40 unprovided for—needing $40 a year for at least five years before they will be ready for self support. On their development she speaks most hopefully they are the hope of that land. To secure these pledges and also some funds immediately she goes for lectures. Miss Shattuck has been spending her rest time in Great Britain and America.

She has nearly 400 widows helped to self support by the embroidery handkerchief and stocking work of which she superintends the preparation and sale. Embroideries are sold in Germany and England, handkerchiefs and fine lace edge are taken by regular business firms. Of Miss Shattuck herself a visitor to her field says: "Her consummate generalship makes a rare impression. Her pluck and heroism were known but the ability and efficiency with which she is managing the multiform work, is marvelous. The magnitude of her work was a revelation. She is calm, unmoved, prompt, decided without the least sign of fussiness or imperiousness. In short gives the impression of being thoroughly master of the situation. What she has done or what she is doing is the king of work that in other walks of life brings Victoria crosses, cordons of Legions of Honor but her reward is inestimably superior to the guidon of any earthly potentate."

NEW RAILWAY NEWS

More than four miles of steel on its way to a roadbed is any railroad ever had is the showing made by the new line to Cripple Creek with nearly 1,000 men at work to complete the track the entire 42 miles. The road line that is to cost $20,000 to $1,000 per mile will afford the quickest line in the country for a track and is being built to last. The road will be shaped for heavy traffic. "Our line is a railroad in the outset," said President H. Wheeler, "and when workmen leave it rail it is ready for heavy fast running of the monster engines and cars that will be here in a few days."

IN JUSTICE COURTS

In Justice Ruby's court yesterday L. M. Couch brought suit against J. C. Ayres et al. He asks judgment for $100 which he claims is due him on a promissory note which he holds against the defendant. The case was set for July 17th.

The case of Ridel vs. Dellers was continued until July 19 at 9 o'clock a. m.

In the case of I. T. Clark vs. M. P. Waters which was heard Tuesday afternoon the court rendered judgment in favor of the plaintiff for $10 and costs and awarded the defendant the premises in controversy.

THE POLICE MILL

John Dobbins and Stewart Tubbs were arrested late Wednesday evening on South Cascade avenue by Officer Thomas for drinking liquor in a public place. They pleaded guilty to the charge yesterday morning in police court. Both men were fined $5 and costs. Dobbins paid his fine and was released. Tubbs could not induce the jail.

Fred Mayo plead guilty to a charge of drunkenness and was fined $25 and costs. He could not pay the fine and was committed. He was arrested late Wednesday evening by Officers Gaines and Scofield.

[illegible] West was arrested on West Huerfano yesterday morning by Officer Gaines for begging on the streets. He pleaded guilty to the charge before Judge Owen and was fined [illegible] pay the amount he was returned to jail to serve out his sentence.

William Johnson was found drunk yesterday morning on West Cucharras street. He was arrested by Officers Scofield and Gaines. When he appeared in police court he pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and costs. He was allowed to leave the city.

HAYDEN'S MILITAIRE SUNDAY EVENING

Signor Cavallo has decided to postpone the production of Grieg's symphonic poem Peer Gynt until one week from Sunday. This is owing to the fact that the extra musicians to be employed could not be secured. In place of it the orchestra will produce Hayden's Militaire symphony next Sunday evening.

The little Davis children are the attraction at the Casino Saturday afternoon and evening. The little artists are always beautifully dressed and their programmes are sharp, quick and attractive. Every child in the city should be taken to see them. Their performance takes about half an hour out of the regular children's dance. Joe Newman accompanies the children and their mother is also with them. They were at the Chautauqua in Boulder last week.

BAND TONIGHT BEFORE THE KAVANAGH CONCERT

Blatchford Kavanagh, the famous boy soprano who created such a furore in the country ten years ago and who sings as a baritone tonight at the Temple theater for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. building fund has passed the [illegible] as a baritone and with remarkable success. The famous choir boy with the angelic face and an international reputation who from a modest fee at beginning finally commanded $1,000 a night when 14 years of age retired from the concert stage in 1890. Nature's inexorable law brought to him the change of voice and obliged him to cease singing with hundreds of applications unfilled. After over eight years of retirement during the change and settlement of his voice spent in acquiring an education he began his career as a baritone singer in January 1899 and has already appeared in over two hundred concerts in 14 states.

[illegible] ance. Some expected to hear again the same thrilling soprano tones unmindful of the fact that the princely boy had grown to manhood. Others vividly recalled the fervor of enthusiasm of his boyhood singing and looked for its exact repetition. Expectation was wrought up to a high pitch that [illegible] ingly nothing could satisfy. This was the situation the young baritone met as never before fell to the lot of a singer.

[illegible] ordinary success might be considered cause for congratulation but it was no ordinary success attending Blatchford Kavanagh's return to the [illegible] long continued ovation and an unequivocal success.

[illegible] Blatchford's high wonderful voice when a choir boy in 1888 by Mr. Henry B. Roney and his subsequent training by him together with the Boy Patti's meteoric career as a boy singer are generally known. As for the past dozen years Mr. Roney still remains his only teacher and manager.

The Colorado Midland band always willing to aid any public enterprise has consented to gather in front of the Temple theater tonight and play a few numbers before the concert begins in the theater. The band does this free of charge and merely to aid in the work of raising funds for the Y. M. C. A. building.

MAIN TOPIC IN CAMP

Continues to Be the Strike on the Unexpected Which Is Regarded of Great Importance.

Special to the Gazette

Cripple Creek, July 12. The strike on the Unexpected still continues the main topic of conversation. Conservative mining men who have visited the property pronounce it the biggest find in this section of the camp since the discovery of the Wild Horse. The properties are not far distant, the veins are parallel. One well-known mining man who examined the find this morning took two samples across the seven feet of eruptive rock exposed and obtained the following results: No 1 164 ounces. No 2 2.6 ounces. He states that he was careful not to get any of the fine mineral into the sample. He took nothing but chips here and there. The screenings from this ore body would be believed to yield much better results.

Tonight your correspondent briefly interviewed Sam M Donald the lessee. This mining man, the superintendent of the Strong and El Paso mines is known throughout the state for his reticence. He admits he has what looks like a big thing. His lowest assay has been one and one half ounces in silver and one ounce in gold.

The Champion Consolidated Gold Mining company, operating on the Lookwick claim lying east of and adjoining the Thompson of the Elkton Consolidated company, is mining paying ore. At a depth of 60 feet the management has cut the same contact opened in the Elkton and Midway. The lode is 7 feet of ore exposed that averages $20 a ton. The mineral has the same appearance as that found in the Thompson vein and the ore body may be a continuation of the same shoot. A well equipped shafthouse and plant has been erected on the property.

A carload of screenings worth about two and a half ounces to the ton was sent out today from the Trachyte.

Lelendre and associates leasing on the north end of the Nobla marketed about 50 tons of five ounce ore today.

The Mackin lease on the Orpha May of the Union company, which expired July 1, made their clean up shipment yesterday. Two carloads of ore were shipped to a local sampler, which is estimated to be worth not less than five ounces to the ton.

Mercer and associates leasing on the Wilson of the Free Coinage company will make a 250 ton shipment before the end of the week. It will run from two ounces to be the lowest grade.

Sub lessees from the Whiting lease from the Hull City placer will sent out ten of three ounce ore this week.

Osgood et al, leasing on the Victor, is making a production of about three carloads a day from that property. The ore is of milling grade.

The new Eagle sampler at Goldfield will make its trial run next week.

ELKTON STEADILY IMPROVING

The Ore in the Sixth Level Is Constantly Increasing in Value--Only Smelting Ore Shipped During Past Three Months.

The interesting feature on the board for the past two days has been Elkton Consolidated, the stock selling from $1.71 on Monday to $1.14 today. Many conjectures have been formed in brokerage circles to explain this sudden rise and fall. Stories of rumors are current. Such tales as large purchasing orders by certain people have been rife upon the street.

Mr George Bernard, the president of the company, was approached this morning and said that although there was nothing definite to warrant the unexpected advance of the stock, the conditions of the mine are more flourishing than ever before. The ore is improving constantly and all the ore being hoisted is of the smelting grade. He stated further that the last shipment of mill grade ore was made three months ago and that the present carloads are uniformly rich. Although the old Raven shaft is disused some surface mining is progressing on the southern end of the Raven claim. Mr Bernard added that the Elkton company was shipping 1,000 tons a month.

ANOTHER SQUAW MOUNTAIN STRIKE

Rich Ore Found in a Pocket on the Flower of the West Claim, Belonging to Company of the Same Name.

About two weeks ago lessees on the Flower of the West claim on Squaw mountain uncovered a pocket of singularly rich ore at a depth of 30 feet. A chunk of rock weighing 100 pounds was hoisted and assays taken. These ran from six to twenty five hundred ounces. The ore is of a very high grade, the company thought that it is not very extensive, there being no vein at all. The formation is a gray porphyry and seems in the shape of a dyke. This portion of the camp abounds in granite and the lessees hope to get the vein at the contact of the granite and porphyry wall.

The vein, as they figure it out, will run parallel with the famous Santa Rosa vein and may probably carry the same. Four men, namely Conkling, Smith, Niles and Fuller.

THE UNEXPECTED STRIKE

[illegible] the most important strike made in the district for a long time is the find of Sam McDonald and W J Morris on the Unexpected claim of the Central [illegible] they have leased. At the depth of only [illegible] feet in the surface they have struck a body of ore which up to the last accounts had not been encountered.

The Unexpected claim is located in the saddle between Bull and Raven hill, and the east end upon which this strike is made is on the slope of the latter. The lease was granted on June 1 last for a period of 18 months with a royalty of [illegible] and the lessees started work at once trenching to the west and placing a shaft.

The big ore body was opened in one of the trenches in what the lessees believed in spite of the shallow depth is a solid formation. The [illegible] which is a similar formation to that of the Portland, Stratton's Independence, they [illegible] the beginning in a similar fashion.

Assays taken in the ore run all the way from [illegible] ounces in silver and [illegible] ounces in gold. As the opposite wall of the vein has not been reached the lessees will begin to sink on the property at once.

Mr J C McKenna general manager of the company has inspected the strike and reports very favorably. It is thought that the vein is an extension of the Wild Horse vein.

The stock of the Central Consolidated was very strong on large sales today, advancing from [illegible] cents and was one of the features of the call.

LOW GRADE BONANZA ORES

The Gazette has received the following interesting communication from its correspondent in Durango, giving a graphic picture of the abandoned Bonanza and also showing that the low grade ores in that camp offer big opportunities to capitalists, together with comments upon methods of mining to Colorado's greatness as a mining state.

The letter is as follows:

Durango, July 9. Bonanza is typical of the wild and red boom buried in the wild enthusiasm of its initial rush. It has become an unconvenient if indeed it did not always be the name. It [illegible] successful camp. In the town are the deserted buildings on the hills the abandoned claims. Here as never the inevitable accompaniments of such a camp, namely three or four staunch optimists who have never failed in their belief in the reality as a source of vast wealth, men who are constantly discovering rock that is just exactly like that in Cripple Creek. Each depart excitement has a few such men in its wake. They are all claim poor, yet toil hard and constantly. Also they are honest. If they were not they would never be so noted in their [illegible] for [illegible] ways more or less admirable.

[illegible] with a [illegible] for nowhere else in the state of Colorado can a better illustration be found for the argument in hand. Bonanza is essentially a low grade camp without milling facilities. It has no mill, their own [illegible] Mark [illegible] a local fully living in [illegible]. It is not an uncommon mill, for the owner will not pay for the silver in his customers ores, but it is run entirely on ore taken from the Bonanza mine. In consequence all the other properties are marketing merely shipping streaks of one fourth of the total width of their veins. There must be hundred concentrators in camp that would market if a mill were erected. [illegible] however but there is found in [illegible] the [illegible] would be a state of things as this exist. Nowhere be would such splendid opportunity for the investment of $25,000 or $50,000 be allowed to remain unproductive. People do not realize that Colorado's output would be doubled if all her low grade ores were marketed and by low grade is not meant the extreme type dwelt upon by the inventor of a new process but ores sufficiently rich to pay high mine and mill men very handsome dividends.

Take Bonanza as an instance. It is marketing annually about 1000 tons of ore averaging $5,500 and better, and [illegible] yet eighteen veins have been cleaned up with from six to twelve feet of ore averaging from eight to twelve dollars besides hundreds other small deposits. This tremendous producing power is today lying idle. Many reasons are of course assigned. In the first place the owners are mostly eastern [illegible] who wait for some body else to prove. In the second place there are numerous other openings for capital in Colorado. Above and beyond all however is the fact that no organized effort is being made to offer fully developed the tremendous resources of the state. Australia does it, why can not Colorado?

Some day Colorado Springs as the leading mining center of the United States will see a syndicate formed of some of its citizens which syndicate will act as a bureau of information for inquiring investors. Such a syndicate could [illegible] expose frauds and recommend investment. In a few years it would have a following in the Eastern states which would compare favorably with the following of any of the large London promotion corporations. Such a course would result in the deflection of millions of money from other channels to the benefit of legitimate mining ventures in the Colorado Springs exchange so that many other than Cripple Creek properties would probably result in more numerous finds in but such a syndicate could eventually accomplish the desired end, obtain enormous profits and work great benefits to the country at large and Colorado in particular. Some day the West will begin to be developed but such development is hardly more than commenced. [illegible] greater co operation especially in mining where the co operative system is of such immense advantage. Will Colorado Springs lead in this movement? If it does it will be no more than Bonanzas but in their places will be flourishing [illegible]

MINING NOTES AROUND TOWN

The strike made on the Unexpected claim of the Central company was responsible yesterday for activity and more or less strength in two other stocks, namely Kitty and Morning Star, both of which companies own property which will very likely develop the extension of the Unexpected ore shoot.

NO WORK AT PRESENT ON KITTIE PROPERTY

No work has been done on the property of the Kittie Gold Mining company since some time back in the winter when the company was prosecuting the work on its own account. The shaft was put down to the depth of 100 feet and considerable work was done but repairs were finally abandoned after a long and futile search for ore. It is very probable that the vein which has been opened on the Unexpected will be encountered on Kittie Gold's property and the company will lease part of its territory within the near future.

OUTLOOK OF THE MORNING STAR CO

For some time it has been thought that the extension of the Will Horse vein would be opened on the Fleming claim of the Morning Star company and the discovery of the ore on the Unexpected claim not far from it given more assurance to that supposition. The claim has been leased but it was allowed to lapse. There are other applications for a lease however and one will be granted in the near future, stipulating for a good amount of development work so that it is very likely that a good body of ore will be opened on that claim. On the Morning Star claim of the company lessees are working steadily and are at present sinking their shaft which is now down to a depth of 100 feet. The sinking will continue until the 200 foot point is reached and then cross cutting for the Mary McKinney vein will be started.

MORE RESIGNATIONS FROM THE BOARD OF BROKERS

Secretary Carolin of the Board of Brokers took the initiative in resigning and yesterday three more of the members followed his example. Those to hand in their resignations are A H Lincoln the assistant manager of the clearing house, J B Braidwood the recording secretary and Lewis Seiffert the market. It is likely that these resignations will also be accepted.

FACTS ABOUT THE SUPPOSED TUNNEL SALE

The erroneous impression has been spread around about mining circles that Mr W S Stratton had bought the Chicago-Cripple Creek tunnel and had settled the various accounts which were pending against the company. It appears however that Mr Stratton has far from purchased this tunnel. An officer of the Matoa company was consulted yesterday in regard to the matter. The Matoa company has secured a judgment against Mr Meecham who is at the head of the Chicago-Cripple Creek company and is intimately interested in the affairs of the company. The officer above mentioned said that Mr Stratton had purchased Mr Meecham's equity, but this is an open question as to what that equity would amount to after the Matoa company had settled accounts with Mr Meecham. It was explained that in order to secure adjacent ground Mr Stratton bought the equity in the tunnel, but the purchase was by no means one designed to secure the Chicago Cripple Creek tunnel.

CONCENTRANT MARKETED FROM THE JENNIE SAMPLE

[illegible] from the Jennie sample of the Gould company. The consignment consisted of two carloads of ore which will return [illegible] Shipments have been somewhat curtailed for the past few weeks but things look now as if a good production could be maintained right along.

ROANOKE ORE CONTINUES TO IMPROVE WITH DEPTH.

Development in the Roanoke on Mineral hill continues to disclose further evidence that a mine will in all probability be developed. Manager W F Higgins has just opened a sylvanite streak in a winze sunk 10 feet below the level at which the strike was originally made and the showing is reported to be more encouraging than ever before.

LEASE GRANTED ON IDA MAY OF ESTELLA CO

A lease has just been granted on the Ida May claim of the Estella company. The lease is made out to Joe Dwinds and [illegible] is to receive as the usual amount of shipping to Colorado. The south 205 feet of the claim are included in the lease.

POINTER SHAFT WILL GO 100 FEET DEEPER

The Pointer Gold Mining company has started to work for [illegible] ing on its Pointer claim on Gold hill. The shaft is now down 200 feet and will be extended to the 300 foot point as rapidly as possible. The mine is in shape to ship right along and the spur from the Midland railway will be completed to the ore bodies in a short time.

islation has been enacted which while utilizing all forms of money secures one fixed value for every dollar and that the best known to the civilized world. A tariff which protects American labor and industry provides ample revenues has been written in public law. We have lower interest and higher wages more money and fewer mortgages.

The world's markets have been opened to American products which go now where they have never gone before. We have passed from a bond issuing to a bond paying nation from a nation of borrowers to a nation of lenders from a deficiency in revenue to a surplus from fear to confidence from enforced idleness to profitable employment. The public faith has been upheld public order has been maintained. We have prosperity at the home and prestige abroad.

Unfortunately the threat of 1896 has just been renewed by the allied parties without abatement or modification. The gold dollar has been denounced and its repeal demanded. The menace of 16 to 1 therefore still hangs over us with all its dire consequences to credit and confidence, to business and industry. The enemies of sound currency are rallying their scattered forces. The people must once more unite and overcome the advocates of repudiation and must not relax their energy until the battle for public honor and honest money shall again be fought.

A congress which will sustain and if need be strengthen the present law can prevent a financial catastrophe which every lover of the nation is anxious to avert. Not satisfied with the currency of the government our political adversaries condemn the tariff law enacted at the extra session of congress in 1897 known as the Dingley act passed in obedience to the will of the people expressed at the election in the preceding November a law which at once stimulated our industries opened the idle factories and mines and gave to the laborer and to the farmer their returns for their toil and investment. Shall we go back to a tariff which brings a deficiency in revenue and destruction to our industrial enterprises?

Foreign Policy.

Faithful to its pledge in these international affairs how has the government dealing with its international duties? Our platform of 1896 declared: "The Hawaiian islands should be controlled by the United States and no foreign power should be permitted to interfere with them." This purpose has been fully accomplished by innovation and delay from these beautiful islands participated in the convention for which we speak today. In the great conference of nations at The Hague we reaffirmed before the world with the Monroe doctrine and our adherence to it and our determination not to participate in the complications of Europe. We have happily ended the Tripartite alliance in Samoa securing to ourselves one of the most valuable harbors in the Pacific ocean while the open door in China gives us fair and equal competition in the vast trade of the Orient.

Some things have happened which were not promised nor even foreseen and our purposes in relation to them must not be left in doubt. A just war has been waged for humanity and with it have come new problems and new responsibilities. Spain has been ejected from the western hemisphere and our flag floats over her former territory. Cuba has been liberated and our guarantees to her people will be sacredly executed. A beneficent government has been provided for Porto Rico. The Philippines, islands and American authority must be supreme throughout the archipelago. There will be no surrender of our sovereignty, no abandonment of our flag, no abatement of our rights, no abandonment of our duty. There must be no scuttle policy. We will fulfill in the Philippines the obligations imposed by the triumphs of our arms and by the treaty of peace by international law, by the nation's sense of honor and, more than all by the rights interests and conditions of the Philippine peoples themselves. No outside interference blocks the way to peace and a stable government. The obstructionists are here not elsewhere. They may postpone but they cannot defeat the realization of the high purpose of this nation to restore order to the islands and to establish a just and generous government in which the inhabitants shall have the largest participation for which they are capable. The organized forces which have been misled into rebellion have been dispersed by our faithful soldiers and sailors, and the people of the islands delivered from anarchy pillage and oppression recognize American sovereignty as the symbol and pledge of peace justice law religious freedom education the equality of all before the law and the welfare and prosperity of their several communities.

We insist that the only principle of the Republican party which sustained by the representatives of the people in the exercise of full and complete power over the territory belonging to the United States stands firmly for the fundamental safeguards of liberty justice and personal rights and is invested with ample authority to protect the highest interests of those placed in our trusted care.

This doctrine first proclaimed in the cause of freedom will never be used as a weapon of oppression.

The Crisis in China

I am glad to be assured by you that what we have done in the Far East has the approval of the country. The sudden and terrible crisis in China calls for the gravest consideration and you will not expect from me at any further expression than I may say that my best efforts shall be given to the immediate purpose of protecting the lives of our citizens who are in peril with the maintenance of peace and vigilant care for our treaty rights and the honest name of China the safeguarding of all our treaty rights and the honest name of China which the civilized world is pledged to.

I cannot conclude without congratulating my countrymen upon the strong national sentiment which finds expression in every part of our common country and the increased respect with which the American name is greeted throughout the world. We have been moving in untried paths but purest patriotism have been guided by honor and duty. There will be no turning aside nor wavering, no retreat. No blow has been struck except for liberty and humanity and none will be. We will perform without fear every international and national obligation. The Republican party was dedicated to freedom 40 years ago. It has been the party of liberty and emancipation from that hour and of profession into performance. It broke the shackles of 4,000,000 slaves and made them free and to the party of Lincoln has come another supreme opportunity which it has bravely met in the liberation of 10,000,000 of the human family from the yoke of imperialism. In its solution of great problems in its performance of high duties it has had the support of members of all parties in the past and confidently invokes their co-operation in the future.

Permit me to express Mr. Chairman my most sincere appreciation of the complimentary terms in which you have given the official notice of my nomination and my thanks to the members of the committee and to the great constituency which they represent for this and their support.

ROOSEVELT NOTIFIED

Oyster Bay, L. I., July 12.—On the breeze swept veranda of Sagamore, his country home, Governor Roosevelt today was officially notified of his nomination for vice president on the Republican national ticket. The ceremony was so simple as to be almost informal. Surrounded by the members of the committee of notification and the rest of the governor's family, he received the address of notification by Senator Wolcott of Colorado, chairman of the committee.

There was no attempt at ceremony. The party simply arranged themselves about the veranda which commands a magnificent view of Long Island sound and Senator Wolcott proceeded without preliminaries of any kind to deliver his short address.

To this the governor responded.

An hour was spent in general conversation on the cool porches and then the party returned to Oyster Bay to convey the news to New York.

Senator Wolcott's Address

Governor Roosevelt: The pleasant duty has devolved upon this committee appointed by the national Republican convention and representing every state in the union to make known officially to you the action of the convention and to hand to you a copy of the platform it adopted which embodies the principles of the party. The representatives of the Republican party in convention assembled unanimously and spontaneously selected you as the candidate of the party at the next election for the high and dignified office of vice president of the United States. You were so selected because of your own public service and because of your adaptedness to the place by reason of your fitness for the duties of the office and your ability to strengthen the ticket in the great battle of the coming campaign. You are chosen because you are a true representative of the principles and purposes of the party because you are a true representative of the great body of the people who are the party's strength and because you are a true representative of the great and growing West. You are chosen because you are a true representative of the great Empire State of the union. You are chosen because you are a true representative of the great American people. You are chosen because you are a true representative of the great American people. You are chosen because you are a true representative of the great American people
